■ On Wednesday, March 24, we will have a talk on a topic I think will interest many of you. Fr. Augustine Curley, a Benedictine from Newark Abbey, will speak on “Genealogy and Tracing Catholic Ancestry.”

Father Augustine is his community's archivist and has been very active with the New Jersey Catholic Historical Commission. Not long ago he published a bibliography on the history of Catholicism in New Jersey, which is of benefit to anyone interested in exploring the Church's life in our state. The program will take place in Msgr. Walsh Hall at 7:30 in the evening.

If you would like to explore your family's history, Father Curley will be able to offer you some expert advice on how to go about it. It should make for a very enjoyable evening.

■ German Jesuit Father Alfred Delp (1907-1945) was working for his order's distinguished periodical Stimmen der Zeit (Voices of the Times) when the Gestapo ordered it to be shut down in 1941. Soon after, his superior asked him to lend his expertise on social issues to the Kreisau Circle, a group of aristocrats and labor leaders who met in secret to share ideas about rebuilding Germany according to Christian values when World War II ended.

When the plot to do away with Hitler in July of 1944 failed, an event depicted in the recent movie “Operation Valkyrie,” the Nazis arrested anyone even remotely connected with the conspirators, including the members of the Kreisau Circle. Father Delp was taken to Berlin's Tegel prison, where, even though he was tortured and had his hands bound most of the time, he managed to write reflections on Christian life that were later published as The Prison Meditations of Father Delp. These writings were smuggled out of the prison by two brave friends, Marianne Hapig and Marianne Puender, not long before Delp was hanged at the notorious Plötzensee prison on February 2, 1945.

Here are some of Father Delp's thoughts on St. Joseph, whose feast day is this Friday:

He is the man ... standing in the shadows, silently waiting, there when wanted and always ready to help. He is the man in whose life God is constantly intervening with warnings and visions. Without complaint he allows his own plans to be set aside.... [H]e has to take to the open road, to make his way through an unfriendly country finding no shelter but a miserable stable for those he holds most dear. He is the man who sets aside all thought of self and shoulders his responsibilities bravely—and obeys.

His message is willing obedience. He is the man who serves. It never enters his head to question God's commands; he makes all the necessary preparations and is ready when God's call comes. Willing, unquestioning service is the secret of his life.

Repairs to Church Roof

Many of you who were at the 5:30 p.m. Mass on Saturday, February 27, heard the crash of snow as it slid off the Church roof. The snow broke and tore the entire length of snow guards on the east side of the roof. On Monday we had the area secured and filed a claim with our insurance carrier. By the end of the week the guards were replaced and any collateral damage was repaired. We expect to receive the insurance check this week. While the roofer was here we also had him repair the leak in the roof over the candles and statue of St. Theresa.

St. Mary's Church "Night at the Movies"

Please join us on Mon., March 22 at 7:00 p.m. in the Parish Center Conference Room as the St. Mary's Adult Education Program hosts a viewing of the movie "Becket." This tale of the troubled monarchy of King Henry II, who ruled England from 1154 to 1189, is based on a play Becket or the Honour of God by Jean Anouilh and won twenty-two nominations and the Academy Award in 1964 for Best Picture. It stars Richard Burton as Becket, Peter O'Toole as King Henry II and Sir John Gielgud as King Louis VII. King Henry II of England has trouble with the Church and when the Archbishop of Canterbury dies, he appoints his old drinking and wenching buddy, Sir Thomas Becket, technically a deacon of the church, to the post. However, this old friend and confidant finds his true honor by observing God's divine will rather than the kings. This leads to a clash of these two powerful personalities and to eventual martyrdom for Becket.

Prayer on St. Patrick's Day

Dear Lord,
your servant, Saint Patrick, was first a slave to, and then a servant of, your people in Ireland.

As he endured years of hardship as a slave, so help us to persevere through trials which seem to serve no purpose at the time. As Patrick's time in Ireland served him well, after he was called to be a bishop of that land, so help us to see how our sufferings strengthen us to do your will. Later, as Patrick's people withstood great hardship, protected your word in monasteries, and brought your Church to many new lands, so help us also to grow in faithfulness to you and be your instruments of the world's conversion.

Amen.
